Regina Battle Named Miss Black Teenager For Monterey County

Last Saturday Night the Monterey Peninsula Cotillion League brought to the Monterey Fair Grounds one of the most spectacular events of recent history. This popular organization held their first annual Miss Black Teenage Monterey Peninsula Contest in the Agricultural Building in the presence of an overflowing audience.

All of the young ladies were well presented in their particular role as contestant. They were all very excellently talented. But in all contests, there appears some whose seem less nervous, less perturbed by the audience, and more able to present themselves. The judging was not easy. But the judges were fair. Taking all things under consideration, the winner of the contest was justly awarded.

Panel on County Jail Is Today

Mr. Lee Toler, head of Young Adults for Action, with a group of twenty other YAF members, will tour the Salinas County Jail on Wednesday, May 17, as guest of the League of Women Voters.

On Thursday, May 18, at 1 p.m., Mr. Toler will be a panelist when the league presents a program called "The Inmate in the Monterey County Jail." The program will continue until 2:30. It will be presented at the Pacific Grove Community Center, 14th and Junipero Street, Pacific Grove.

Other panelists will be Sheriff Davenport, who will speak on the need for a new jail and Public Defender Paik whose subject will be "Defending the low-income inmate."

There is no charge and the public is invited.

Plan Farewell

The Officer Students' Wives' Club of the Naval Postgraduate School will be honoring Mrs. A.S. Goodfellow and Mrs. Robert Y. Gaines at a special Farewell Brunch on Tuesday, May 23, at 10 a.m. in the Barbara McNitt Ballroom of Herrmann Hall. Reservation may be made by calling Mrs. Allen Moore at 372-2160.

(In the absence of Andy Barragan)

Last Saturday night I was again a guest of the Circle Theatre in Carmel. Saturday Night was the final night of the Circle Theatre and there could have been no better closing of the door than with the stage play "THE HAPPY TIME." It was my second time seeing the play. It was even more delightful than opening night. All the kinks were out, and the cast was in their greatest form. Ofcourse, I admired young Richard Andante who played the part of Bibi just as much as I did the opening night. I wrote about the play last month after watching the opening, so I won't go into details. I will say though, that each actor and actress deserves all the credit that can be given.

As I said before, the play centers around helping Bibi cope with all the personalities he is growing up around. An uncle, (Louis), who immediately brings to mind the Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam: "A Book of Verse beneath the bough, a jug of wine, a loaf of bread - and thou beside me singing in the Wilderness..."

Another uncle, (Desmonde), the traveling salesman who was finally "grounded" by the maid, Mignonette. At this point I will say that it was Mignonette who first aroused Bibi's curiosity when they attended a movie of Rudolph Valentino's. (They held hands). Bibi could Winner: Regina Battle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Battle of Seaside.

1st Runner-Up: Cheryl DeBarry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billie DeBerry of Seaside.

2nd Runner-Up: Kevin Parker, daughter of Mrs. Fredrica Evans and Mr. William Parker of Seaside.

3rd Runner-Up: Erika Sweet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Sweet of Seaside.

4th Runner-Up: Marshaella DeVan, daughter of Mrs. Martha Dimery of Seaside.

Friday Night, prior to the contest, there was the elimination revue. During this revue Cheryl DeBarry won the "most talented award" and Regina Battle won the "evening gown competition award." Regina Battle's chaperone was Mrs. Nellie Lewis.

The Monterey Peninsula Cotillion League would like to take this opportunity to thank the committee who so tirelessly assisted in putting this show together in only three and a half weeks. This committee consisted of Mrs. Betty Mann, Betty Sapp, Dee Dee Smith, Madlyn Thomas, Dorothy Evans, Ruthie Watts and Charlie Knight.

The entire Monterey Peninsula is looking forward for next year when the Cotillion League will hold their next contest.

May this year's winner reach the finals in Madison Square Gardens next month as they vie for the Miss Black Teenage America.

Party Is Planned

Sunshine Bluebird troop from La Mesa School in Monterey will hold a party on May 19 for children attending the Operation Shoe Strings childcare center in Seaside.

The Bluebirds, the name given young girls before they are old enough for the Camp Fire Girls organization, have raised the money they will donate to Operation Shoe-strings by holding a box social for their fathers.

According to Mrs. Charles Carpenter, the troop leader, Operation Shoe Strings in a welfare program set up to take care of children from ages 3 through 13 whose parents are working or attending school. The troop will provide refreshments, donated by local merchants and entertainment for the children.

Wants Camp Area On Army Land

The 367 acres of government land being declared surplus by the Defense Department and the Coast Guard just south of the Salinas River on Monterey Bay should be made into an overnight camping park, according to Mel Vercoe, candidate for Congress in the 12th Congressional District.

Speaking in Pacific Grove, Vercoe, said, "I am glad the Defense Department followed up my suggestion to declare part of Fort Ord surplus. As other portions of Fort Ord nearer Seaside and Marina become surplus they should be made available for housing for Peninsula residents, but the best use for that portion near the Salinas River would be for an overnight camping and recreation facility. It is virtually impossible for tourists passing through to find such a facility."

Candidates Blast Board

Three candidates for the Monterey Airport Board have called on the incumbent board to undertake an "aggressive program against noise pollution" to protect the district's taxpayers from devastating lawsuits.

This week's California Supreme Court ruling that airports are liable for damage claims arising from air and noise pollution may "finally wake up" the Monterey Airport Board, said George Leslie, Lou Schmidt and Dick Tourangeau, who are candidates in the board election June 6th.

"This Board has taken a public-b-e-damned attitude about noise, refusing to take effective steps to reduce noise levels on the Monterey Peninsula," they said.

Since enactment of California Aeronautics Department noise abatement regulations December 1, 1971, the three candidates asserted. Many California airports have taken steps to raise the traffic pattern altitude, establish power reduction standards after take-off, establish flight patterns which avoid heavily populated areas, and - working with airlines - seek quieter planes for flights into and out of their airports.

Turning to the local situation, Leslie, Schmidt and Tourangeau said immediate steps could be taken at Monterey Peninsula Airport to have planes take-off to the East when wind conditions permit. By routing aircraft over unoccupied areas of Fort Ord, the noise problems would be sharply cut.

Camacho Blasts Nixon Volunteers Are Needed

Democratic Congressional candidate Julian Camacho released the following statement recently regarding the president's decision to mine Haiphong harbor:

"President Nixon announced his plans to mine Haiphong harbor. Those plans are a moral outrage. Nixon and the military have signed a neo-philiac contract rushing us headlong towards Armageddon."

"In response to the president's statement, I have sent telegrams to Senators Mansfield and Scott and Representatives Albert and Ford, urging them to immediately draft human, bi-partisan legislation to stop the president and the Pentagon from mining Haiphong harbor."

"Seventy-five percent of the American people want to get out of Vietnam--now. The mining of Haiphong harbor represents not only a re-escalation of the war, but a possible confrontation with the Soviet Union as well. How can Nixon, in good conscience, negotiate the disarmament of the world with the Soviet Union, when he shows such contempt for the sacredness of human life?"

"We are in a horse race for survival. And I submit that the new Four Horseman of the Apocalypse are Nixon, Kissinger, Abrams and Rogers."

"But perhaps the most frightening aspect of the president's decision is that it shows to the world that he has assumed dictatorial powers in the area of foreign policy."

"Nixon has left us with yet another grave constitutional crisis. It is up to Congress to resolve that crisis."

"A first step toward calming the world is for Congress to immediately draft and pass legislation to stop the mining of Haiphong harbor."

"If Congress can do this--if it can reassert itself as a viable branch of the government--then perhaps it can muster the courage to end the war, and bring this tragic period of American History to a close."

Applicants will be interviewed by a screening committee and those accepted will begin instruction on June 13. Upon completion of the training, volunteers will be prepared to offer realistic counseling for individuals in crisis. A 24-hour telephone service is maintained to receive calls from the despondent and to suggest appropriate alternatives to suicide. This includes referral to social welfare, religious and medical specialists, as circumstances indicate. Volunteers must be prepared to give four hours a week during the daytime and week-end hours.

Applicants may obtain details by dialing 373-0713 or 373-6363.

Muskie Men Switch to McGovern

Two Central Valley state senators, Senator Alan Short (D-Stockton), and Senator George N. Zenovich (D-Fresno), who played a major role in the early organization of Senator Edmund Muskie's campaign in California, have joined the presidential campaign of U.S. Senator George McGovern.

In a joint statement, the pair pledged to campaign for the South Dakota Senator in his drive to win the California presidential primary on June 6.

"Senator McGovern has shown us he can win," Short and Zenovich said. "He can pull the Democratic party together. His basic appeal to all segments of society stems from his honesty, ability and philosophy of making government work for the people."

Senator McGovern has been called the statesman for agriculture in Washington. His understanding and concern about the problems of the real farmers -- not the conglomerates and huge corporations -- is important to the farm areas we represent.

"The momentum is building for McGovern in rural as well as urban areas, among the middle-aged and elderly as well as the students, and Ohio has proved it is building among industrial working people, ethnic minorities, middle-class suburbs and the other segments of our society calling for a change of direction in our national administration."

"More and more it appears that the California primary may very likely determine who gets the nomination in Miami at the convention. We will be doing all we can to see that George McGovern wins California."

Fort Ord-Seaside Student Exchange Plan Tried

A student exchange program that might one day involve youngsters from every Seaside and Fort Ord elementary school has been started by the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District.

The exchange, still in its "pilot" stages, is being coordinated by Mrs. Marion Weedie, community counselor at Highland School.

She said the exchange is designed to bring about three basic objectives. The first is to provide meaningful educational experiences for students in a setting other than their regular school or class. The second is to bring about an awareness in students of other children in different learning situations. Finally, the exchange is aimed at developing positive attitudes and rapport with children from other schools.

Students in grades three, four, five and six are involved in the exchange. The program began with a swap between Highland and Patton schools. Students spent a full day at the exchange school, sitting in regular classes and being ushered around by their new friends. In subsequent weeks, Highland students will visit each of Fort Ord's elementary schools and host exchange visits.

Highland Principal James Mitchell said students visiting Highland from other schools have provided equally warm receptions for Highland students.

dents. Many of the Highland students have never been out of the Seaside area, and some of the incoming students have never been to Seaside, he noted. The exchange is thus serving to expand student awareness.

The exchange visits are being followed up by classroom discussions in which children compare and contrast for themselves the different approaches to education they have witnessed. Mitchell said he is hopeful that the students will return to Highland School with ideas that can be incorporated into the program there.

Mrs. Woodie said principals at several Seaside schools have expressed interest in having their students participate in exchanges. Whether the program is expanded to include more schools will depend on the success of the present venture, which will continue through May.

Albert Joins McGovern Campaign

"Coach" Dan Albert of Monterey has been appointed general chairman of the McGovern for President Campaign in Monterey County, it was announced recently.

Albert, a native of Monterey, has worked actively in local politics and participated in the 1968 primary campaign of Robert Kennedy. He served as a member of the County Democratic Central Committee during 1971.

Coach Albert has taught in the Social Sciences Department at Monterey High School for 18 years. He is the M.H.S. Student Activities Director as well as the football and baseball coach.

The Monterey coach is also well known for his activities as director, with Mrs. Albert, of Camp Amigos, an inter-cultural, inter-denominational summer camp for young residents, of Monterey, Pacific Grove, Seaside and Carmel.

Albert stated that he is taking an active part in McGovern's campaign "for the same reasons that led me to support the campaign of Sen. Robert Kennedy in 1968. I believe McGovern to be an honest person and our country needs honest leadership right now."

Student Officers Elected

The students at Seaside High School recently elected their student body officers for the 1972-73 school year.

The new president is Melvin Fortes. Other officers are: Steve McCoole, vice-president; Norma Nimer, secretary and Delis Alejandro, treasurer.

All four winning officers ran on the same ticket. This is the first time that an entire ticket has been elected.

Phone Book

The new edition of the Monterey and San Benito Counties telephone directory is about to go to press, according to Don Boston, local PT&T manager.

"Subscribers who wish to add, delete or otherwise change any listings should do so as soon as possible," Boston said.

May Is Good Posture Month

May is officially "Correct Posture Month" in the city of Seaside.

The designation came with a formal proclamation in which the city joined California's 4000 doctors of chiropractic in observing the month-long event to encourage good posture habits, according to Seaside Mayor B. J. Dolan, Jr.

The proclamation points to correct posture and spinal integrity as a key element in attaining and maintaining health. It stresses posture's role in child growth and development and underlines its effect on physical and mental accomplishment.

The proclamation also directs public attention to the benefits of good posture and the need for periodic spinal examinations.

"Good Posture Month," a national program, is sponsored here by local members of the California chiropractic profession.

VA Poster Contest

A national poster contest for high school students with the theme "Hire A Veteran", was announced recently by Donald E. Johnson, Administrator of Veterans Affairs. Savings bonds will be awarded to local and state winners throughout the country. The local and state competitions will eventually produce three national winners who will receive trips to the Nation's capital in October.

Local and state veterans groups and other service organizations will be asked to participate in the contest in their localities, Johnson said.

The three national winners will be Johnson's personal guests at the Annual Veterans Day National Observance, Arlington National Cemetery, on Monday, October 23. Johnson is Chairman of the President's Veterans Day National Committee. The national winners as VIPs will be treated to other awards and events while in Washington.

Johnson is enlisting the aid of state governors and commissioners of education. Information is being mailed to school principals so that the contest can get underway promptly when schools open after the summer vacation. Students (in grades 9-12) in public, parochial and private schools are eligible. Poster sizes will be restricted to 17 x 22 inches.

Administrator Johnson pointed out that the Veterans Administration has been instrumental in bringing thousands of veterans and prospective employers together at job fairs throughout the country. While responsibility for assisting veterans in finding jobs rests with the Department of Labor, the total welfare of the veteran and his family is of prime concern to VA which is the largest employer of veterans in Government. Recent hirings by VA have averaged 1,000 a month.

Johnson said that he hopes during their summer vacation students will give thought to the poster contest even sketching their ideas in preparation for the return to school and the start of the contest.

Art Show Planned

The Seaside Art Commission will present a one-man show of paintings by Clifford Holmes with wax sculptured candles by Sonya, Ken and Jim of Carmel and mobiles by Richard Dessauer in the display cases at the Seaside City Hall during the month of May. The hours are 8 to 5, Monday through Friday.

Civilians Recieve Awards

Three Monterey County men employed with the Directorate of Industrial Operations at Ft. Ord have made suggestions that will save the United States Government more than $57,000 in the first year after their adoption. For their suggestions, the employees have received awards totaling $1,680.

Presenting the awards recently was Colonel Stephen E. Cavanaugh, deputy installation commander. James B. Rider of Monterey received $925 for suggesting a reorganization of methods for distributing rations from the post commissary to individual unit messhalls.

Aubrey O. Pollock of Hollister received $380 for his adopted suggestion of replacing broken legs on desks issued for barracks use with sturdier hardwood supports, thus prolonging the useful life of the desks.

And Alfred Fasulo of Pacific Grove received $375 for his idea of using separate stock number listings for plotting boards and carrying cases for mortar units so that the parts can be ordered separately and not as a unit when one component becomes un-serviceable.

Learn to 'Turn On' Creativity

Dr. Howard Delaney, professor of philosophy at Loyola University, will discuss "The Dynamics of Creative Living" in a lecture at Monterey Peninsula College tomorrow (Friday) at 8 p.m. in the MPC Music Hall.

There are four stages to human creativity, according to Dr. Delaney, and in his talk he will discuss ways to "turn on" creative forces. On Saturday morning, Dr. Delaney will conduct a workshop on extrasensory perception and clairvoyance. Advance registration for the workshop is necessary. Enrollment will be limited to 35 persons. An enrollment fee of $2.50 will be charged for the workshop. Admission to Friday's lecture will be $1.

Dr. Delaney maintains that ESP is not limited to special people, but that everyone has latent ESP abilities. More information about this and other

Chamber of Commerce Progress Report

By Verlaine Crawford
Manager

This has been an extremely busy week at the Chamber. The Membership Committee (Boosters) are planning a wine tasting party to be held the first part of June. Arrangements are being made for music, entertainment and, of course, a good share of wine. Everyone will be invited—members and non-members. This will be a great opportunity for people to meet and converse on a social level. The Board of Directors met Thursday morning at 8 a.m. and discussed business development in the City of Seaside. Many new businesses are thinking of locating in this area and the Chamber is following up their requests with letters and assistance. The Business Development Committee is busy working on the slide presentation that will depict the advantages and progress of Seaside.

As a representative of the Chamber, I had the opportunity to go on a tour of Santa Cruz and to see the redevelopment projects they have completed. The downtown Mall is very beautiful with many trees and shrubbery and seating amidst the flowers. They actually saved their downtown area through this development...before it was started there were 15 empty buildings...today there are none. The businessmen facing the Mall are doing very well. Profits are up and there are no complaints.

One of the reasons Santa Cruz was able to get this development accomplished is that one man got the businessmen to join together in a common effort. Chuck Abbot will be 80 years old in December, and he said that he's looking forward to the next ten years and all that they can accomplish. One man with interest and enthusiasm changed a city and its entire economic structure. I feel it's time for the businessmen and residents of Seaside to join together in a common effort to improve the appearance of our business districts.

It's true that Seaside has

Musical Director Named

John Lewis, celebrated pianist and musical director for the Modern Jazz Quartet, will again serve as the musical director for the annual Monterey Jazz Festival, according to Jimmy Lyons, Festival founder and general manager. This year's Festival, the 15th Annual, will be held September 15, 16 and 17.

Lewis, known world-wide as a pre-eminent jazz pianist, is also noted for his many original compositions. He has acted as musical director for many of the Jazz Festival's fourteen years and the Modern Jazz Quartet, under Lewis' leadership, has made many appearances on stage at Monterey.

This year the five concerts of the Monterey Jazz Festival are Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings and Saturday and Sunday afternoons. They will be held in the 7000-seat outdoor area on the Monterey County Fairgrounds. For information write Monterey Jazz Festival, P.O. Box JAZZ, Monterey, California 93940, or telephone 373-3366.

project which includes gardens and a wild life preserve, as well as a newer, more up-to-date recreational area at the beach.

What does it take to make things happen? A few interested individuals who can generate excitement. Why should we change Seaside? What's in it for you, the businessman or woman? It's simple—the better our environment, the more people want to shop here and live here and play here. So, let's get together and plan for the future today. In only two years Santa Cruz took a deserted downtown main street and made it into the most popular shopping area in the City.

The Chamber can not turn the tide alone. We need the help of every man, woman and child who lives or works in Seaside. Call the Chamber to find out what you can do to help build a strong, proud community.

Two New Books Contain Cycling, Camping Tips

Now that spring is here and summer is coming, young people feel the urge to take to the road. "Two Wheel Travel: Bicycle Camping and Touring" and "Two Wheel Travel: Motorcycle Camping and Touring" offer the beginner as well as the seasoned cyclist a wealth of information about Sunday afternoon spins or cross country tours.

their applicability to touring. It offers valuable help in choosing a bicycle to suit one's individual requirements.

The book presents extensive travel tips for the beginner and expert, including advice on American as well as European bicycle touring.

From Hondas to Harley-Davidsons, "Two Wheel Travel:

Motorcycle Camping and Touring" (A Dell Special, $3), describes various makes of motorcycles so the buyer can make an intelligent choice of machine. Secondhand motorcycles are rated along with sidecars, windshields and motorcycle security equipment.

Techniques of motorcycling are illustrated - body positions used in long distance touring are discussed, advice is given on breaking in a machine and trouble shooting on the road. Useful and entertaining magazines for cyclists are reviewed.

Africa USA Opens Soon

A jungle is now blossoming on the edge of San Francisco Bay which soon will have as its permanent residents lions and tigers, elephants, zebra, giraffe, eland, rhino and other wild animals.

The surprising setting with its even more surprising fauna is part of the Africa USA addition for Marine World Park in Redwood City, which formally opens to the public on May 27.

The man-made jungle with islands, lagoon, waterfalls and thousands of trees brings a new dimension to the aquatic attractions of dolphins, porpoises and killer whales. It will be the home of more than 5000 animals from Africa, India, Malaya and North and South America.

A totally new concept in "wildlife" parks, Africa USA is the reaction of Ralph Helfer, world-famous animal trainer whose affection-trained wild animals are playful as kittens.

"Africa USA at Marine World will be a park where animals live and people are invited," Helfer explains.

The park will also be used as a special breeding area for many rare species close to extinction, such as the Bengal Tiger.

An all-day adventure for the entire family, Africa USA at Marine World will feature wild animal performances in a jungle theater, a gentle jungle where children can touch exotic animals, camel and elephant rides; a chimpanzee Art Gallery; a jungle raft ride passing by "islands" with wild animals and a valley of the tigers.

Carr has been appointed assistant district sales manager by Allstate Insurance Company, according to E. J. Blackburn, Menlo Park Regional Manager. We erroneously reported earlier that Mr. Carr had been appointed assistant Park Regional Manager. We apologize for this error.

Seaside Ripples

quote Gibran at this point: ".....did that yearning make me see her as the most beautiful woman under the sun? Or was I intoxicated with the wine of youth which made me fancy that which never existed?"

His Papa, a very wise man. When Mama would get shook up over some unexpected outburst from Bibi, it was always Papa who calmed the situation. He told Bibi once that it isn't really necessary to elaborate voluntarily on a subject that was just a little "touche."

Between those three men in Bibi's life he learned a lot from each of them. He learned the correct way to pin a medal on a lady by watching Uncle Desmond. The final few seconds of the play is when Bibi got a chance to pin a medal on Sally, the girl next door. He very "professionally" gave the medal its final pat; that is when he grew up, and asked Papa: "What's happening to me, explain this feeling to me!" Delightful play! Excellent acting! A WONDERFUL STORY.

After the final curtain I was talking with Mr. Anthony Vincent about the closing of the theatre. He told me that the latest inspection revealed that it would take over $8,000 to put the theater in top shape, but the owners would only lease the building on a year-to-year basis. After the first year they could kick them out. So they are looking for another place, preferably larger.

I left Carmel and went to Monterey to attend the last part of the Miss Black Teenage Monterey Peninsula Contest. The young lady who walked away with all the honors was Regina Battle, 16 of Seaside.

When I arrived home and turned on the radio they were just beginning 24 hours of Frank Sinatra on one of the FM Stations. So I didn't get much sleep Saturday night. And I listened all day on Sunday, and until the station signed off Sunday Night at midnight. But I could listen to Frankie Boy for a year. They played all of my old tunes. I laughed with Frankie and cried with him. Someday probably soon, I shall write an entire column on Frank Sinatra and the "Clan."

No, little girl, I will not mention you.

The weather has been very nice for all of us. My boss has been taking it in stride. He has been lying in the sun. In the front, mind you, and watching the "traffic" go by. And he just loves to watch traffic. In fact there is not a "traffic" that goes by that he doesn't love.

Kahili says:

"Love is the only freedom in the world because it so elevates the spirit that the laws of humanity and the phenomena of nature do not alter its course."

Your Social Security

Can a woman get both her own social security retirement benefit and also the full wife's benefit based on her husband's work?

No. She gets her own retirement benefit. But if the amount of the wife's benefit based upon her husband's social security record is higher, the difference is added to her retirement benefit. In effect, she gets the higher of the two benefits, but not both.

Do I have to report my social security benefits as income when filing my federal tax returns? Also, will I receive a W-2 statement from social security?

Social security benefits are not taxable, but questions concerning the filing of tax returns should be directed to Internal Revenue Service. Social security does not issue a statement showing total benefits received at the end of each year.

I am presently receiving my Social Security having retired at 63 years of age. Last year I worked parttime for my previous employer and earned $1920. Must I report this to Social Security?

Yes. When a person receives benefits during the year and earns over $1600, he must file an annual report with the Social Security Administration by April 15th of the following year. This enables the Social Security Administration to determine the correct amount of benefits to be paid.

Mayor Dolan Reports

Joe Dolan

Did you know that we residents of Seaside have been missing a good deal during the past years? There is a simple move which we can take which will help development of our city right now and in years to come. This involves the establishment of a Junior ROTC course in our high school.

There surely are some parents who will raise their hands in consternation at the thought of operating a military unit within our school for youngsters at the tender age of 14 or 15. Yet a major eye-opener about Junior ROTC is that even though a boy may take this training throughout his high school years he finishes with absolutely no obligation either to enter the Service or continue the training in college.

Naturally it would be something of a waste to the young man not to follow up such training in one way or another. If he should elect to serve his military tour in the Army, for example, the Army offers:

* Those who have completed two years JROTC, entrance into the Army in pay grade E-2.

* Those who have completed three years of training, and are recommended by the Senior Army Instructor, entrance in pay grade E-3, and after the full four years, with the same recommendation and successful completion of an applicable MOS test, the young man can begin as an E-4, with the pay commensurate with that grade.

And why not? The program offers participation for the young citizen of a course in military instruction while pursuing his normal education, which studies the dual roles of the citizen/soldier. Furthermore these courses are conducted under direction of instructors who are proven experienced leaders. They must be either retired or active commissioned or non-commissioned officers of the Armed Forces.

If, instead of entering the service in the pay grade he has attained, the Junior ROTC cadet elects to continue his education in college or university, he then becomes eligible for a senior ROTC scholarship which will supply him with the monetary support to complete four years of higher academic training.

The addition of a Junior ROTC course to Seaside High School would assure us of a number of community improvements:

* Many of our young men would have the opportunity to learn about the progress during our nation's history that has been made possible by Army leadership in exploration, medicine, science and engineering.

* The same youngsters would be growing and developing with a greater respect and understanding of organized and directed group activity.

* Our school would realize fuller support both from the assigned instructors and because the many military-connected residents could readily identify with this program.

Seaside Students and Parents - I urge you to voice your opinions to the MPOU School Board!

This week's Board of Supervisors meeting covered several items of real interest.

First item on the agenda was the presentation of an invitation to the Board to visit the Salinas Valley Fair. This invitation was sent to us by Mr. Mel Simas, General Manager and promoter of this wonderful Fair. The JUNIOR LIVE-STOCK AUCTION held at the Fair on Saturday is always a happy time and it is a real pleasure to watch these young teenage farmers handling the lambs and young beef cattle that they have carefully raised. It is well worth a trip to King City to enjoy this colorful and worthwhile event.

Another item of considerable interest was the conclusion of a right-of-way and "swap" restrictions and releases at Nacimiento Lake. This was a pertinent lesson proving that alert action by the Board can sometimes save the County more than their combined annual salary on one transaction. At the previous week's meeting the majority of the Board was ready to conclude an even trade. However, Supervisor Tavernetti did not seem entirely satisfied with the arrangement. Therefore, on my motion the matter was put over for one week for a decision. During the intervening week Supervisor Tavernetti was able to negotiate a compromise settlement which increased the County's end of the "swap" by $125,000 in cash. This compromise was unanimously accepted by the Board. I had recently flown to South County to inspect the property. The credit here goes to SUPERVISOR ELLIS TAVERNETTI FOR DECISIVE ACTION.

In another matter the Board's action was to authorize the County Administrator to negotiate with the State Highway Division to obtain additional land on which to build parking facilities. If successful this could be a real help in solving some of our parking problems there.

The final action of the day was the appointment of MR. JOE COTA (Past Mayor and Present Councilman of Seaside), to serve on the Advisory Commission to the CALIFORNIA CRIMINAL JUSTICE COMMISSION, by unanimous approval of my motion.

As I See It

By Mel Vercore

President Nixon's recent decision to blockade North Vietnam may have some very interesting results. Interesting is not really the word for it one cares about human lives, but if we can pretend for a moment to just be casual observers, then interesting will do.

The purpose of the blockade - to restrict North Vietnamese capability - in itself is questionable. The decision was made a number of years ago to get American forces out of Vietnam, and it was generally accepted at that time that since the people in the South were not especially interested in keeping the NLF and the North Vietnamese from taking over the Saigon government, then there was little point in Americans dying for this cause. It has also not been a well-kept secret that the war was rapidly destroying America's position as a world power, and this is what the whole thing was supposed to have been about.

Yet now, three and a half years after Lyndon Johnson threw up his hands in disgust and went to Texas to write a book, we are still trying to win the war under the pretense of protecting American troops who should have been out of there three years ago.

As for the blockade, there are some weak points in it from a military strategy standpoint. (1) North Vietnam has been preparing for this possibility since 1966, developing an expanded highway system through the mountains from China, completed with anti-aircraft defenses. (2) It would be several months before the effects of the blockade would be noticed in the South, even if the blockade was 100 percent effective. (3) The Russians are unlikely to pass up an opportunity to embarrass the Nixon administration, and this they could and very likely will do by using warships and minesweepers to escort merchant ship convoys in and out of North Vietnam.

Assuming that the nearest Russian minesweepers are based at Vladivostok, roughly 3,000 miles from Haiphong, if will be several weeks before a convoy would be taken in and another convoy of empty ships taken out. The fact that only a few ships left before the mines were activated - ships that probably were already scheduled to leave - tends to bear out the idea that escorted convoys are part of the combined Russian-Chinese - North Vietnamese plan.

At any rate, it will be interesting to watch. It means a whole new war, and the twenty thousand men from America who died in Asia since Mr. Nixon took office may be just a drop in the bucket compared with the losses we may incur if the Russians call our bluff, which they undoubtedly will, and if Mr. Nixon then calls their bluff, which he also undoubtedly will.

Bob Wood Reports

It makes no difference where you go in California today, to the cities, the rural areas, the north, the south, in the schools, in the hospitals, in the Legislature--one of the prime topics of discussion is the increasing drug problem and the toll it is taking among not only adults, but among our children.

Most of us can remember when it was necessary to warn our young children not to take candy from strangers and not to be lured into strange cars. Now parents must instruct their five and six-year-olds to the dangers of barbiturates, marijuana, uppers and downers. According to the Federal Narcotic Officers, eight-year-old pushers are not uncommon in large urban areas. I hope it is not true in Monterey County.

To counteract the increase in drug use a landmark piece of legislation, titled the Comprehensive Narcotics and Drug Abuse Act of 1972, has been introduced in the Legislature. If successful, we hope it will go far to not only alleviate the narcotic and drug problem, but will provide for more meaningful treatment of offenders. For that person arrested as a first offender for the possession of drugs, the bill proposes to develop a system which will place him in an appropriate treatment program in his own community. Experts note that of all the categories of people who engage in drug abuse, the chances of rehabilitation are best with the first-time drug user.

The bill provides for State licensing of drug prevention and treatment efforts to insure their effectiveness, and development of model drug education programs from kindergarten through the 12th grade for use by local school districts if they choose. The measure attempts to mobilize "peer group pressure" among the young, with the idea of looking for ways to kindle the influence of those who do not use drugs to make drug use the "out" thing. The diversion plan is modeled after successful similar programs in Connecticut, Massachusetts and Philadelphia. A first offender with no record of violence or drug trafficking and under other certain conditions could, through a "diversion hearing" prior to arraignment, bypass the criminal court system, but only if rehabilitation proved to be successful.

Questions are Answered

Q -- I have a certificate of eligibility for educational benefits which I received three months ago after VA Form 21E-1990 and a copy of my discharge papers with the VA. Can you tell me why I have received no checks?

A -- The certificate of eligibility which you say you still have must be given to your school so it can certify your enrollment to the VA. After the VA receives this certification, your checks will start.

How to get the most out of a dishwasher:

Hold dirty dishes in it until there's a full load, instead of frequent washing, and you'll save water, detergent and heat.

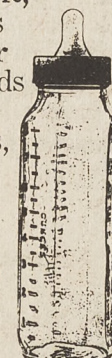

Let it clean pots and pans. New machines have a special cycle to remove heavy accumulations of grease and food.

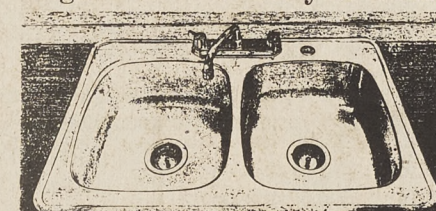

Use the "dry" or "warm" setting to warm dishes.

Sanitize baby bottles, dishes, pots and silverware in it, since it uses hotter water than your hands can stand (because it dries, too, there are no dirty dishtowels).

Store dirty dishes in it — out of sight — instead of in your sink.

A dishwasher can also take over miscellaneous chores such as cleaning light fixtures and ashtrays.

Women who work outside the home in particular rely on a dishwasher to help keep house. The cost of about three cents a day to run one is a bargain. PG and E

The POST Bookworm

In the "See and Read Biographies" series, published by G. P. Putnam's Sons of 200 Madison Avenue, New York City, we now have "MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.," a joint effort of Berkeley writer Beth P. Wilson and free-lance illustrator Floyd Sowell. It is an easy to read tale of the life of the great Black leader, starting with the funeral in Atlanta, illustrated with the mule-drawn farm wagon.

In simple but moving terms, Mrs. Wilson tells why it was that "behind it walked almost a hundred thousand people... rich and poor, Black and white."

It is recommended for children of elementary school age as well as for reading aloud to smaller-fry. (64 pages, 30 pencil-sketch illustrations)

POCKET BOOKS

On the Black Experience for junior high school age young people, Simon and Schuster, Inc., of New York City has published many recent pocket books, including:

"ARTHUR ASHE," (29278) 60 cents.

"BLACK HEROES IN OUR NATION'S HISTORY," (47834) 95 cents.

"CAPTAIN OF THE PLANTER: The Story of Robert Smalls," (29043) 50 cents.

"COOL, HOT AND BLUE: A History of Jazz for Young People," (46555) 75 cents.

"THE GREAT ONES," (47004) 75 cents.

"GROWING UP BLACK," (77093) 95 cents.

"HARRIET TUBMAN: Conductor on the Underground Railroad," (29505) 75 cents.

"JACKIE ROBINSON OF THE BROOKLYN DODGERS," (29255) 60 cents.

"MINORITIES ALL," (77560) 95 cents.

"YES I CAN: The Story of Sammy Davis, Jr.," (78202) $1.25.

A 'DON'T-MISS'

Recommended by the Child Study Association, ALA Booklist and the University of Chicago's Center for Children's Books is a 128-page pocketbook, "SHIRLEY CHISHOLM," by Susan Brownmiller, illustrated with photographs of the first Black woman to make a major party bid for the Presidency.

It was published in February at 75 cents by Archway Paperbacks.

UPCOMING

The literary world awaits "NO NAME IN THE STREET," by James Baldwin, due for May 26 publication by Dial Press of New York City. A portion of the book appears in April "ESQUIRE."

You'll pay $5.95 a copy for this new collection of essays.

Also upcoming from Dial is "TO REACH A DREAM," a new novel by Nathan C. Heard, who wrote "Howard Street." The new one is the story of Bart Enos, a young Black hustler from the Newark slums, where the author grew up. Heard was serving an armed robbery sentence in Jew Jersey State Prison when "Howard Street" was published. The following year, 1969, he was teaching in the Black Studies program at Fresno State and won the Most Distinguished Teacher Award.

'INSIDE STORY'

Baker E. Morten, a well known Washington, D.C., journalist and commentator, who has packed several lifetimes into his 41 years, is author of a book "NO MORE NIGGER THINKING," just off the Vantage press. At $3.95, it covers the Black leaders from Martin to Malcolm, in a voice that cries for change.

ON WOMEN

A Doubleday release of last month is "TOMORROW'S TOMORROW: The Black Woman," by Joyce A.

Ladner of Howard's faculty, who challenges a lot of preconceived ideas on the Black family and womanhood. The book is $1.95.

LIVELINESS

When Vida Blue was young, his father revealed to him that the word "vida" in Spanish meant life and also liveliness.

"So get out and move," said Blue's old man.

The fabulous moves of Blue are recounted in "VIDA" by Richard Denning, a March release at 95 cents by of action pictures to prove that Vida did move.

Detours Announced

"Starting this week and continuing for the next 2 to 3 weeks, traffic on Highway 1 through Fort Ord will partially be rerouted through some detours. Traffic conditions will remain unchanged for the 2nd Street and 10th Street entrances to Fort Ord. During the change over to these detours some traffic delays can be expected. However these will be kept to a minimum. Both Southbound and Northbound traffic will be routed over portions of the future northbound lanes. As a result traffic will be separated by a 4-foot median without any median shoulders and a narrow outside shoulder. Motorists are urged to use caution during this stage of construction."
